

Mark Petruzzi Success Waypoint, LLC

Performance consultant, coach, speaker-facilitator, Mark helps individuals (and groups) achieve the improvements they're looking for—both at work and in their personal lives. His professional development workshops could forever change the way you think about emotions, stress, or interpersonal communication.

Mark's diverse background, with his experience in multiple industries, and in both corporate and entrepreneurial worlds, makes him uniquely suited to connect with almost any audience.

Mark is founder of Success Waypoint, LLC, and a Certified Independent Trainer (CIT) for SpeedReading People, LLC. He has enjoyed more than 15 years in corporate training, including time with IBM, CIGNA Corporation, and IKON Office Solutions.

Mark counts more than 30 years in the study of effective approaches to life and work enhancement. He enjoys working with individuals and small groups, in business or private settings.

Mark's workshops include: SpeedReading & SpeedReaching People; Choosing to Stress Less in a Stress More World; Emotions in the Workplace: Your Emotional Compass; Fearful to Fortunate: Making the Most of Unexpected Change; Your Most Important Choice, Life Alignment, and more. Inspired by his recent experience working with the Connecticut Department of Mental Health and Addiction's Healthy Campus Initiative, Mark is currently developing a series of talks intended to bring new perspectives on life and career choices to college students.

On SpeedReading and SpeedReaching People:

"Hands-on practice assessing real people gives participants an accelerated learning curve. Mark's passion for the framework is evident in the way he presents the material. His flexibility in applying different means of communication demonstrates his mastery of the model.

I anticipate very positive results as members of the team apply the concepts learned today!"

On Choice-Level Living

"Mark is an effective teacher because he not only knows his subject, but one gets the feeling he is living it. He is also a good listener and is responsive to his students. I am pleased that more people will have the opportunity to benefit from his teachings..."

~Nan Peckham

*Environmental Analyst 3
Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection*

2009, Orient Point, LI

Mark has great skill in creating a safe and empowering space for you to connect with your own guidance and come up with your own solutions. He was able to pick up on my potential blind spots and see what might be stopping me from getting what I want.

I gained many helpful practices and insights in my "toolbox" that allowed me to let go of what wasn't serving me and move forward with more clarity and confidence. And his experience with the Enneagram and other spiritual/personality teachings gave me greater understanding of my patterns and tendencies. I highly recommend him!
